

GVHC Board Hears From Woodland Way

Residents of the five detached single-story Woodland Way homes appeared at the GVHC board meeting this week, following their joint letter protesting GVHC appraisal of their dwellings at figures close to two thousand dollars above previous PHA prices.

W. H. Griffith, C. W. Long, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Brenon, Mike Loftus and Don Kern wanted to know "if we do buy will GVHC provide better maintenance than the government has? Will I have to live 20 more years with a leaking roof and irregular heating?" It was pointed out that "an old Greenbelt house at the end of 25 years will still be standing. Our houses will have roofs down, walls crumbled, floors broken through." Scorching a price comparison with defense housing, Long remarked that a "2-bedroom defense house, larger than mine, is 50% cheaper."

No movers

Board members, standing by their appraisal as previously approved after personal investigation of the homes by four of them, offered a super-priority to Woodland Way residents desiring to move. None accepted.

Reiterating the inferior condition of their houses, the Woodland Ways requested a lower price, with personal responsibility for maintenance; or an attempt by GVHC to ensure for them the chance to buy their homes individually, as each is a separate unit. Spokesman Mike Loftus, reminding listeners of the experimental nature of the houses, which were among the first pre-fabs in the county, stated that all five were ready to buy under GVHC and two had already paid in their $100 good-faith deposits.

Speaking for the board, vice-president A. C. Long reiterated that many Greenbelt residents would like to have lower monthly charges and assume their own maintenance responsibilities and that, beyond the offer of super-priority, the board could not further discriminate between one group of residents and others. The board had accepted unanimously the altered appraisals suggested by the four investigating members; Thomas and Beckham dissented in the resolution offering the special priority.

Complainant residents agreed they would accept as final and binding the results of a new appraisal, if GVHC would undertake one. After the delegation left, the board decided, after considerable discussion, on the following action (with Beckham dissenting): to notify Woodland Way residents that for any of the 5 families who sign the present contract there will be no appraisal; for those who will sign 'blank' contracts, there will be an appraisal whose figure will be binding; those who do not sign at all will lose preference for their units as of May 31.

Complaints

Following a vote of thanks to a member, Mrs. Eva Daly, for her suggestions about showing houses to prospective buyers, the board considered three letters from members taking exception to tonight's special meeting as "illegal" because the "on or about 10 days" notice provided in the by-laws was not observed since no member received more than 6 days notice. President Mike Salzman, who as chairman of the meeting will have to decide its legality, said he would seek legal opinion and rule accordingly, knowing that the membership may appeal such ruling.

MAJORETTES' TRY-OUTS

The Majorette Unit of the Greenbelt Community Band will hold try-outs for new members on Tuesday evening, June 3, at 7:30 o'clock in the Center school gymnasium.

To be eligible girls must be in at least the seventh grade of school and should have some knowledge of baton twirling. After acceptance members must pay weekly dues; failure to do so for three consecutive weeks will cause a member to be dropped from the group. Parents are invited to attend try-outs.

Further information can be obtained from Mrs. LeRoy Neibich, Greenbelt 3087.

Nursery School Rolls Open For September

The Greenbelt Cooperative Nursery School is taking applications for enrollment of three- and four-year-olds in the coming 1952-53 session starting in September. Tuition for this accredited, well-equipped nursery school is $8.50 a month. Under the supervision of the teacher, Mrs. Ruth Bowman, it offers a fine, varied program for pre-kindergartners. Mrs. Bowman, a resident of Greenbelt since 1944, trained for nursery school work at Antioch College in Ohio, from which she graduated with an A.B. degree in 1937. Her main course of study was child development, and in addition to book work did practical work with children in two orphanages and in the college nursery school. Since that time she devoted a year to fulltime nursery school work before raising her own brood of three children.

Mrs. Bowman plans to include nature study and rhythm among the many nursery school activities this coming school year. She points out, however, that "the main thing is learning to play together."

Interested parents can contact Mrs. Robert Garin at Greenbelt 2771 for further details and information as to tuition and registration.

Little League Opener Rained Out, Re-set

Rains drenched McDonald Field last Friday night and washed away hopes of 90 Little Leaguers. Their opening game ceremonies were rescheduled for Wednesday evening. As this paper goes to press, additional downpours of Monday night and Tuesday make it just a toss-up as to whether or not Mayor Francis J. Lastner would get off his preliminary pitch to start the 1952 Little League campaign.

There will be no games Saturday as a great number of our Little Leaguers will be participating in Boy Scout functions that day. The three games originally set for that day will be played singly at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

About 100 boys and parents attended the banquet at the Community Church on Tuesday when champion basketball and boxing teams received certificates in lieu of the trophies the county will soon present.

Northwestern Offers Play

The Dramatics class of Northwestern High School in Hyattsville, Maryland, is presenting the play, "Men Are Like Streetcars," a teenage comedy in three acts, on May 23, at 8 p.m. in the gym.

The Empty Lake

By E. Don Bullian

So many questions have been asked about the empty Greenbelt Lake that a few answers seem to be in order.

The Izaak Walton League has for some time been considering the advisability of draining the lake in order to clean it and take out the less desirable fish. Cleaning was to include the gathering of bottles, cans and debris from the bottom of the lake. The purpose of this program was to develop our fishing facilities and put more and better fish into the lake.

With the cooperation of the City Council and the State Inland Game and Fish Commission, this elaborate program got under way about a month ago when the lake was completely drained. The State Commission was in complete charge of the project but could not furnish the labor that was required. "Pappy" Sines and his staff, of the City's Maintenance Crew, were of tremendous help in this respect by opening the drainage valve and keeping it open. All the bass, blue gill and other edible fish were selected, while draining, and sent to the State Fish Hatcheries. After the lake was drained, the remaining shallow spots on the bottom were spread with poison to eliminate all signs of life in the lake. This poison does not affect the taste of the fish and is not harmful to human beings. At this stage the League sent out a call for volunteers to help in the cleaning process.

With the help of our Boy Scouts and a few rabid Waltonians, the lake is now ready for filling and re-stocking. Re-stocking will include not only all the fish that were selected but in addition a large supply of fingerlings furnished by the State of Maryland. Filling and re-stocking should begin in about a week or ten days. The exact time and day will be announced, so that our inept fisherman will be present when the fish are being put into the lake.

There is still another step in the Izaak Walton League's plan to make the Greenbelt Lake a fisherman's paradise. The State Inland Game and Fish Commission has informed the Izaak Walton League that the lake will require at least two tons of fertilizer to sustain

Johnson Injured In Car Crash

Alec Johnson, PHA manager of Greenbelt, was severely injured in an auto accident last Monday morning outside Lexington, Kentucky where he had been visiting relatives since Friday.

With Johnson were his wife and mother who were also hurt when the car, passing a truck, apparently skidded and turned over on the wet road.

According to Assistant Manager Fred Ryser, who will most likely take over Johnson's duties for the present, it is believed that the Johnsons were on their way to West Virginia where his mother makes her home, and then back to Washington and Greenbelt.

Although the extent of the injuries is not yet known, it is reported that Johnson was in serious condition and is not expected to begin recovery for at least 10 days. All three victims of the accident are at St. Joseph's hospital in Lexington.

Council to Try Meeting With GVHC; Votes $500 To Fireworks Budget

By I. J. Parker

Faced with the problem of putting the results of the housing "referendum" to good use, the city council decided to arrange a meeting with the board of directors of the Greenbelt Veterans Housing Corporation. Meanwhile, the results have been mailed to GVHC, PHA, and about eight members of Congress.

North End Kindergarten Needs More Registrants

The North End School kindergarten registration has not reached the quota necessary to fill morning and afternoon classes in order to hire a full-time teacher. June 13 is the deadline for those who wish to register children for kindergarten in the fall. Later registrants will be placed on a waiting list. Monday night's first membership meeting of the Greenbelt Cooperative Kindergarten also passed a ruling that the first month's tuition of $8 must be paid by June 13, in order to protect the teachers employed. Would-be registrants for North End Kindergarten may call newly-elected vice president Vivian Pines, 8077 or financial secretary Betty Coleman, 11-D Hillside. Mrs. Henry Brautigam, 8716, is vice president at the Center School. Financial secretary at the Center School is Dorothy Buckwalter, 3686. The vice presidents are in charge of membership at their respective schools.

Other officers elected were Opie Stage, president; Norma Anders, treasurer; and Esther Tillem, secretary. February 1 was set as the last date in which children would be entered in any current year in order to avoid an undue disturbance of the curriculum. It was left up to the judgment of the board to decide on admission of out-of-town children. The board will hold monthly meetings but it was decided not to hold membership meetings for organizational purposes more often than once a year.

Forty Dig JCC Foundation

This Sunday the concrete will be poured for the new building of the Jewish Community Center at Ridge and Westway Roads. Over forty members of the group have been digging for the past few weeks, and pumping out excess water, to ready the foundation of the brick and cinder-block structure which will be built almost entirely by the sweat and muscles of the men of the JCC.

The referendum was interpreted by Councilman Steve Comings as a "mandate to the council to do something for the majority of the residents who wish to continue renting." Quoting percentages, Comings disclosed that first choices representing 74.6% of the replies were against GVHC; 76.7% second choices against GVHC; and the entire results were 3-1 against the housing corporation.

Mayor Frank Lastner declared that he "can't see why people would rather pay increased rent than build up an equity." He added that the referendum replies were a result of momentum gained by Comings' personal petition of residents advocating a halt in negotiations with GVHC by PHA.

Council then refused a suggestion to go on record to support or oppose GVHC as a result of the referendum. Instead, the city manager was instructed to arrange a meeting with the GVHC board to discuss the housing situation with the referendum results as a basis.

Fireworks

An additional $400 was voted towards the $100 already included in the budget for fireworks on the Fourth of July. It is expected that this year's fireworks will be more spectacular than ever before. A 6-day week was approved for waste-collection employees; $200 was voted to take care of referendum expenses; and new hourly wage rates were established for swimming pool employees and part-time policemen. A first reading of an ordinance to increase the city manager's salary was passed.

A plaque presented by the National Safety Council to Greenbelt for having no traffic fatalities last year was shown by Mayor Lastner and presented to City Manager Charles McDonald for public display in the city offices. Lastner declared he was "extremely proud" of the award and has always worked diligently to make Greenbelt a safe place to live. McDonald stated he was equally proud, and that the record has paid dividends; in cash, in fact, as insurance rates to the city have been decreased.

Golfers Goal

A long campaign by Comings to have a golf-driving range established in Greenbelt came slightly closer to reality when McDonald announced that an adequate site has been found. The city dump, which will be covered with earth soon, is of proper size and location and may be used for a driving range. Permission from the Interior Department is needed, but McDonald anticipates no refusal. The area is on the site of the new proposed 18-hole golf course planned soon by Interior.

The city manager was authorized to sell to the Greenbelt Rescue Squad a 1936 Buick ambulance for the price of $1. The vehicle is in dire need of repair, but it is hoped the rescue squad will realize some profit to supplement its present campaign funds.

Present at last Monday's council meeting was Allen Chotiner, principal of the junior high school; in absence of City Clerk Winfield McCamy, the city manager's wife acted as secretary.

Settled Question

The question, Shall we buy Greenbelt, was settled when GMHOC was formed and later made more secure by GVHC at a cost of $11 to each member. Of course there were people at that time who didn't intend to buy and never joined, but didn't make any fuss about it either.

Those to-day who are bitterly opposed to the GVHC want to buy in most cases but on their terms. But the PHA is the starting point of any contract; they own the property and can dictate the terms, and they will not recognize any individual and only the GVHC at the present time. So why not join forces with GVHC and make a deal with the Government, then fight it out. If we keep going as we are now we all lose, and I am sure very few want to be left out in the cold.

The GVHC is your corporation, you vote all the laws and changes that are best for you. If you doubt that take a look at number 1 on the agenda for the special meeting—533 to 800 members. It really has been kicked around and still going. Who does it? Why the members, of course, and they can kick anything else around that might go against the grain. By the way, if you are interested in buying, better keep the number at 533.

Get on the Band Wagon. We all know the Government is going to sell, it's a law; but nevertheless they are going to do something, why not know why and buy? I have heard so often, "I will buy if forced." Well brother you are going to be forced to something; why not name it and save it?

Majorettes Win Lions Contest

For the fourth consecutive year, Greenbelt majorettes strutted off with top honors in the fourth annual Lions Club competition last Friday at the Washington National Guard armory. The Majorettes made the trip to New York, Chicago and Atlantic City in previous years, with the Greenbelt Band accompanying them to Chicago. Next appearance locally: the Memorial Day parade.

Residents of Greenbelt DON'T Gamble With Your Homes!

You have less than ten days in which to exercise your priority on your home.

After May 31 your home may be sold to another Greenbelt resident or to a non-resident if you have not indicated your intention to buy.

You have less than ten days in which to become a member at the current rate of $11.

After May 31 everyone (resident and non-resident alike) who has not made a deposit of $100 must pay a membership fee of $26 regardless of previous payment of $11.

No petition or referendum can alter these facts.

Only through G.V.H.C. can residents have a voice in the disposition of Greenbelt. G.V.H.C. needs less than 120 residents (of a 280 total) to qualify—but we cannot handle them all at the last minute.

GCS Grease Job Has Bonus

Many Greenbelters don't realize that a grease job at the Greenbelt Service Station includes a couple of services that are usually charged for in other service stations. As a matter of course your rear springs are greased and your air cleaner is cleaned each time you have your car greased. Ed Burgoon, the Service Station manager, introduced these services several years ago in a "special" and has kept it up ever since. He explained why he did it. "If you charge for these services, motorists keep putting it off with risk to their car. This way it is sure to get done. I figure that once the car is on the rack it doesn't cost much extra to push a little grease into the rear spring and clean the air cleaner." Of course, if the rear spring is not greased for quite a while, there is a lot of grease to be put in. Putting some grease at every grease job means having it almost full of grease at all times.

Ralston Wheat Cereal - A Worthy Staple in Your House

There was a time when the milling industry appeared indifferent to the findings of nutritionists. In recent years, perhaps due to a more informed public, there have been some encouraging trends. An example of this is the marketing of Ralston Wheat cereal. Here is a whole-wheat cereal with twice the amount of wheat germ that whole wheat has. Such a product embodies the slogan "Let's Give The Best To Our Kids Instead of Throwing It To The Pigs." In the Solomon household this product is valued because my children object to cereal when we add wheat germ. Evidently the Ralston people have achieved a tasty blend.

Lest you readers think this is a plug for the Ralston company, I might point out that the same company puts out dry cereals of dubious worth. Most dry cereals have two things wrong with them even if they are "whole-wheat." First, they all have sugar—some more, some less. Second, the grain is subjected to high heat, which tends to destroy important parts of the protein and the B vitamins in the natural grain.

In effect when they shoot the stuff through a gun they kill important nutrients. They do you a favor by putting some of them back. At this point, nobody knows how much they haven't put back.

Community Church Navy Wives Plan Music Fete Sunday Offers Summer Camp

On Sunday, May 25, at 8 p.m. the Greenbelt Community Church will present its three choirs in a Festival of Music. Choir members, totaling approximately 60, will meet at the church at 5 p.m. for a full rehearsal, and at 6:15 will be served a light supper under the direction of the Worship Committee. At 7:30 the chimes will be played, and at 7:45 there will be organ and piano selections with Mrs. Donald Kern at the piano. At 8 o'clock the procession will start, preceded by the singing of Samuel Wesley's "Lead Me, Lord", by the Cloister and Adult Choirs. The opening choral service will be sung by the Cloister Choir. Each choir will have a group of anthems to sing, and all three choirs will join in the singing of Christians' "Beautiful Savior." The service will last about 45 minutes and the public is invited. The Service and Choirs are under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Goetze, minister of music and organist at the Community Church.

GCS Lease

On the question of the commercial property lease discussed last week with GCS directors, Ritchie reported that he and Krooth and Altman, legal counsel, have ascertained that the terms of the present GCS contract with PHA would stand no matter who became the owner. Principal issues affected

The regular bi-weekly meeting of the Truman Riddle Navy Wives Club was held at the home of Mrs. Margaret Grant, 10-J Southway.

Under the direction of Mrs. Teresa Davis, president, all committee reports were heard as the Club dispenses with business meetings during July and August.

Plans were discussed for a picnic supper at the Greenbelt Lake for a final meeting next month, to which the husbands and children of members will be invited.

Mrs. Marjorie Heise and Mrs. Margaret Grant were installed as new members. Mrs. Dorothy Peifer, who leaves Greenbelt soon, was presented with a decorative vase as a "going-away" gift from the Club.

After the meeting was adjourned, the hostess, Mrs. Grant, took over for an evening of cards and refreshments.

Any Navy or ex-Navy wife desiring to join the Navy Wives may call Mrs. Teresa Davis, 24-J Ridge Road, Gr-5361.

In the ten-year lease are the rent, $14,000 less than the cost of the half-mile restriction against competitive enterprises.

Directors considered the complaint of Mrs. Edna Stripling, who was among the first good-faith depositors but did not immediately register her priority at the office. Under the circumstances which had permitted board members high priority in the same situation, Mrs. Stripling asked that her number be changed to a higher one. However, since the type of dwelling she desires is expected to be readily obtainable, the board instructed Bordenet, receiver of the complaint, to assure her that her preference rights are not in jeopardy.

the fish in the lake. Because it is an artificial lake, it lacks sufficient nourishment for any sizable amount of fish. As fertilizer costs money, the local Waltonians recently initiated a drive to raise funds for that purpose. It is hoped that the sportsmen of Greenbelt will support this worthy effort.

Child Care Camp For Summer Days

The Greenbelt Child Care Center is offering a summer day camp program for children. It is offering proven service and constant supervision.

Last summer's program was so well received that the Center feels this service to the community should be continued. Under college-trained staff and efficient workers, children derive benefit from the recreational facilities of Greenbelt. Their days are planned to take in the various activities—swimming, arts and crafts, organized games, free play and attention to the need for rest and the quieter activities essential to a happy, healthful day round out the program, which is in operation from 7 in the morning until 6 in the evening.

This summer day-camp program is available to all children between two and ten years of age. Full-course meal plus morning and afternoon snacks are included.

Interested parents may contact the director, Mrs. Margaret Pluto, at 14 Parkway, Gr-5856.

LOOK! LOOK! Big Tire Sale

These tires are all made by nationally advertised manufacturers and have the same quality materials as their first inel tires. However, slight blemishes were detected while they were being inspected at the factory. These blemishes do not affect the wear of the tires. The brand names have been removed.

We have sold over a hundred of these tires in the past six months and have had only three comebacks which is normal for any make tire.

POTATO SQUEEZE

Good quality potatoes in any sizeable quantity are becoming a rarity on the market. Canada, a source for importing potatoes, had a very poor season; U. S. potato growers, facing the year without a price support program, planted too few acres to meet consumer demand. The subsequent shortage has sent a large portion of the potato supply into the black market to be sold through illegal channels at prices above those set by OPS. The new Georgia and Carolina crop that is just being dug is not expected to catch up with demand and the overall shortage will not likely be eased for another month. Help keep prices down by not buying potatoes, instead using potato substitutes.
